

Welcome to the new Tekro.com!

Welcome to the new version of Tekro.com! It has been too long since an update. The web developers have fortunately been too busy with client work, so Tekro.com has had to wait. With the new look, Tekro has added a brand new logo. Neat-o! Really, what does this mean for our existing clients?

For existing clients, our backend systems will be integrated into tekro.com. For example, right now its not difficult to log into your control panel, but it is pretty easy to forget the link. As long as you can remember "Tekro.com" you are good to go. On Tekro.com, we've added a Support menu with a link to log into your control panel. Now you never have to worry about forgetting the link!

Also new will be a link to our billing system. You'll be able to pay your Tekro invoices online! In the near future, you will also be able to upgrade your hosting packages, whenever and however you like.

Support and service to you, our clients is very important. We hope the new design will make it easier for you to attain the support you need. We'll be implementing a ticket system so you can track your requests, and we can keep track of our level of service and find any room for improvement.

We're always open to feedback, be it about our new site design, our level of service, or just about anything else. Let us know how we can help you!
