

Computer Services

You're at home. You don't have an IT support desk to rely on any more. Let us be your personal IT support!

Its important to keep up to date on all the nasty things out there, like viruses and security breaches. We have to stay up to date, for our client's sake. Now you can leverage our vast computer knowledge for your home computers.

We can provide checkups to make sure your computer is running at peak form. Connected to the internet? With your authorization, we can perform these routine checkups without a visit in person!

Many don't know their computer setup is insecure, making them targets to hackers and thieves. A security audit by Tekro will find your setup's weaknesses. We can then make recommendations and implement changes to secure your computers and data.

We can help if you're having hardware problems or wish to upgrade. Compatibility causes all sorts of problems and we know what works with what and what doesn't. Our experience can save you time, money, and unnecessary headaches.

Contact us today to get started!